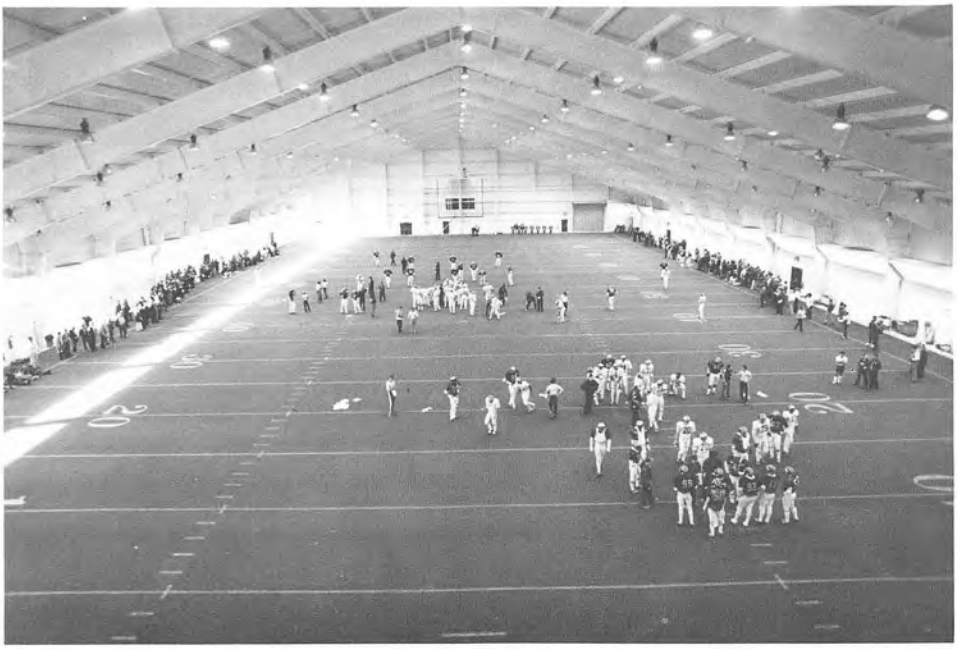
The University of Michigan Fieldhouse



Last December Michigan's Athletic Department dedicated its new fieldhouse. The 72,000 square foot building contains an entire artificial covered football field. It is the largest such indoor facility in college athletics and it is capable of serving Michigan's entire athletic program.

1 Anthony Carter, WR, Jr. 5-11, 161, Riviera Beach, FL

Anthony, a tenth place finisher in the Heisman Trophy balloting last year as sophomore, enters the 1981 campaign as college football's most dynamic player. Nobody can match this lightning-quick athlete when it comes to making the big play. Consider the following:

- ★ 21 of his 68 career recpetions have gone for TD's, nearly one in every three
- ★ He has almost averaged a touchdown for each game he has played at Michigan (22 in 24 games)
- ★ Counting receptions, rushes and punt and kickoff returns, he has averaged 16.4 yards every time he has touched the ball in his collegiate career
- ★ He's averaged 18.8 yards with each of his 68 receptions at Michigan
- ★ Nearly once in every seven times that he has touched the football (including punt and kickoff returns), he has scored a TD

Carter, who has at least 22 games left in his Wolverine career (not counting possible bowl games), has accomplished so much that people tend to forget that his stay in Ann Arbor is just half over. Despite that, the Florida native has already become a Wolverine legend. Following are his major accomplishments.

- ★ His 21 TD receptions is a Michigan career record
- ★ His 14 TD catches last fall set a new school seasonal record
- ★ His 11 TD receptions in Big Ten games last year set a new league seasonal record
- ★ His 840 yards in career kickoff return yardage is a new Michigan career record
- ★ He became the first sophomore in Michigan history to be voted MVP by his teammates
- ★ He became just the second sophomore- first since 1925- to be accorded first-team All-American honors

The Prep All-American (54 high school TD's) gave early indications that he was indeed something special, scoring on a 78 yard punt return in his fist collegiate game vs. Northwestern in 1979. Later that year he caught a 45 yard TD pass from John Wangler as time ran out to give Michigan a 27 – 21 win over Indiana. He averaged 27.2 yards a catch that fall.

Last year, Carter became a national name. He led the squad in scoring (84 pts), all-purpose yardage (1,478), receiving (51 catches for 818 yards), punt returns (24 for 165) and kickoff returns (15 for 427). His 51 receptions was the fourth best seasonal effort in Michigan history, while the 818 yards in receptions was the second best seasonal output in school history.

Anthony, a member of the Florida Amateur Hall of Fame, is a consistent 4.4 or under in the 40. He is a member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and is enrolled in Michigan's School of Education...Born 9-17-60. 1980 HONORS: First-team All-American (AP, Sporting News, Football Writers, Football News); All-Big Ten (AP, UPI); Tenth in Heisman Trophy balloting

Of Colors, Song And Michigan

Michigan's athletic traditions date back more than a century ago. Students, as early as 1861, referred to themselves as Wolverines, and, of course, Michigan is known as the Wolverine state. The graduating class of 1867 selected Maize and Blue as the school colors. Michigan's famed fight song, "The Victors", was written in 1898 by Louis Elbel to commemorate a last-second, 12-11 victory over Chicago that produced the Wolverines' first Western Conference football championship. In 1903 a five-gallon jug used for drinking water was left in Minnesota and six years later the Gophers and Wolverines played a football game that became known as the battle for the "Little Brown Jug." When Coach Fritz Crisler arrived at Michigan in 1938 he wanted to "dress up the plain, black football helmet" used at that time. The result was the distinctive winged-helmet still used by today's Wolverines.

When Michigan meets Notre Dame on Sept. 19th, it will be Bo Schembechler's 200th game as a collegiate head coach.

JERRY METER
Defensive Line

Jerry Meter begins his third season on the 'M' staff after a brilliant football career at Michigan. He was named the defensive line coach this past spring after serving as a grad assistant for two seasons. He was co-captain of the 1978 Big Ten Championship team and second team All-Big Ten linebacker. Meter won the 1977 Matthaei Award which goes annually to the junior who excels on the athletic field and in the classroom. He made the Dean's list in 1975.

Meter was an all-state football player at Bloomfield Hills Andover after earning nine letters in three sports at Saginaw Douglas MacArthur. During three seasons at Michigan he made 273 tackles. He was drafted by the Minnesota Vikings and was a late cut. He joined the staff as a graduate assistant in 1979. Meter is not married.

LES MILES
Assistant Offensive Coach

Les Miles, two-year letterwinner as an offensive guard at Michigan, begins his third season on the Wolverine staff. An all-state football player and a wrestling champion at Elyria High in Ohio, Miles was a member of the 1976 Orange Bowl team. He majored in economics, graduating in 1976, then went into private business before entering coaching. Miles is not married.

FRITZ SEYFERTH
Recruiting Coordinator

Fritz, a former Michigan fullback (1968-71), is in charge of coordinating all recruiting efforts for the athletic staff. He was honorable mention All-Big Ten in 1970 and supplied the key block on Billy Taylor's touchdown run in the 1971 win over Ohio State that capped an undefeated, untied season. He gained 529 yards rushing in his career.

Fritz, who has a degree in industrial engineering from Michigan, was drafted by the N.Y. Giants and played for the Calgary Stampeders before joining B.F. Goodrich Co. as an internal consultant. He worked for Arthur Young & Co. as a management consultant before joining the athletic department. He married the former Lynn Groves of Ann Arbor and they have three children, Sean, Courtney and Nicholas.

In 12 years at the helm, Bo Schembechler has led Michigan to nine Big Ten titles

BILL McCARTNEY
Defensive Coordinator

Bill McCartney, who gained national recognition last fall with his "Six Defensive Backs" scheme against Mark Herrmann of Purdue, is in his fifth year as the defensive coordinator. McCartney, who coached Dearborn Divine Child to state championships in football and basketball, joined the Michigan staff in 1974.

McCartney, served as defensive end coach for three years and became defensive coordinator in 1977 replacing Gary Moeller. He also coaches inside linebackers.

McCartney earned 11 letters at Riverview High School where he captained the football and basketball squads and played baseball. He was a three-year letterman as a linebacker at Missouri, playing in two Orange Bowl games, and was named second team All-Big Eight.

At Divine Child, McCartney compiled a 30-5 won-loss record in four years as head football coach. His teams won three Detroit Catholic League Championships and two state titles (1971, 1973). His basketball teams at Holy Redeemer and Divine Child were 157-49, winning the Detroit Catholic title in 1969 and the state Class B title in 1973.

McCartney, who is a member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, and his wife, Lynne, have three boys, Michael, Thomas, Mark, and a girl, Kristyn.

"We expect this group to keep improving every day. If they work hard, this could become a solid group."

MILAN VOOLETICH (VULE-la-tich)
Outside Linebackers

Milan Vooletich, starting his third season at Michigan, coaches the outside linebackers. He coached the interior defensive line his first year at Michigan. He coached the defensive backs at the University of Colorado before coming to Michigan in 1979.

Vooletich had coached at Colorado since 1974 as the Buffalos compiled a 29-14-1 record. In addition to his four yars there with Bill Mallory, Vooletich coached the linebackers at Miami of Ohio from 1969-73, also under Mallory. Vooletich joined the college ranks after coaching football and track at Sandusky (Ohio) High School from 1964-69. Among his players were Wolverine graduates Thom Darden, Bo Rather, Brian Healy and Werner Hall.

Milan has a private pilot's license. He likes to ski and is an avid reader.

A native of Pittsburgh, Pa., where he attended Carrick High School, Vooletich played offensive and defensive back at Geneva College in addition to being captain of the track team. Vooletich graduated in 1964 and was President of the Varsity Club. Vooletich and his wife, Rosemary, have two sons, Daniel and Brian.

"We lose a great one in Mel Owens but are fortunate to have Robert Thompson back. We still have some decisions to make."

Anthony Carter returned a punt 78-yards for a TD in his first collegiate game against Northwestern in 1979

BOB THORNBLADH (THORN-blade)
Receivers

Bob Thornbladh of Plymouth has coached both the offensive and defensive units at Michigan. He is in his second season as the Wolverines' receiver coach. He joined the staff in 1975 as a graduate assistant following a year of playing professional football with the Kansas City Chiefs. He played four years of football for Bo Schembechler, including three years as a letterwinner (1971-73). He gained 677 yards rushing, losing only two yards in 163 carries as a fullback on Wolverine teams that compiled a 31-1-1 regular season record. Bob, a political science major, graduated from the LS&A School in 1974. He's an avid jogger. Bob married the former Christine DeCorte. They have a son, Justin, and a daughter, Molly.

"We only lost one letterwinner through graduation so we return a good nucleus. Of course we feel Anthony Carter is the best in the country."

LLOYD CARR
Defensive Backs

Lloyd Carr joined the Michigan coaching staff last year and made an immediate impression with his development of a very young secondary.

A three-sport athlete at Riverview High where he earned all-state honors in football, he served as assistant coach at Nativity High in Detroit and Belleville High from 1968 through 1973. He led John Glenn High to several successful seasons, earning the '75 Regional Class A Coach of the Year Award for an 8-1 season.

Carr also coached at Eastern Michigan for two seasons before joining Gary Moeller's staff at Illinois in 1978.

Carr attended the University of Missouri, where he played football, but transferred to Northern Michigan and quarterbacked the Wildcats to an undefeated season. He graduated in 1968, earned his Masters' from Northern Michigan in 1970 under a Mott Fellowship, and joined the Green Bay Packers. A Riverview Community School Board member for six years, Carr married the former Karen Manning of Riverview. They have three children: Melissa, Jason and Emily.

"We will return an experienced unit that possess quality athletes and good depth. We expect continued improvement."

When Michigan takes on Northwestern on Oct. 24th, it will mark the 50th time these two schools have met on the football field.

GARY MOELLER
Quarterbacks

Gary Moeller returned to Michigan last year as quarterback coach after serving as the head mentor at Illinois for the three previous campaigns. Before taking over the Illini program in 1977, he had spent the eight previous years coaching the Michigan defense.

An outstanding lineman at Lima High in Ohio, Moeller went on to earn three letters as a center and linebacker at Ohio State, and captained the Bucks' 1962 championship team. Moeller, who taught at Union High in Grand Rapids, coached Bellefontaine High to two straight titles in Ohio. He joined Bo Schembechler's staff at Miami of Ohio in 1967 and moved to Michigan with Bo in 1969, serving as defensive end coach until 1973 when he became defensive coordinator. Moeller took on added responsibilities during the spring of 197€ when Schembechler was absent from practice. He was appointed head coach at Illinois following the '76 season, but remained with the Wolverines through the Rose Bowl game.

Moeller married the former Ann Morrison of Lima and they have four children: Susie, Amy, Andy and Molly.

"We lose an experienced leader in John Wangler but with hard work we feel we can come up with a solid replacement."

TIRREL BURTON
Offensive Backfield

Tirrel Burton, who produced several outstanding pass receivers, including Bo Rather, Paul Seal and All-American Jim Smith in his years as the Wolverines' receiver coach, is entering his second campaign as Michigan's backfield coach.

Burton, who joined the Wolverines staff in 1970 as freshman coach and took over the receivers in 1972, enjoyed a long and successful career at Miami of Ohio, both as a player and coach.

Burton was an outstanding halfback at Miami, twice being named All-Mid-American Conference. He averaged 8.8 yards per carry and scored 84 points his senior year, both records. Burton also starred in track, winning his way to the NCAA 220 hurdle finals in 1955. He was elected to Miami's Sports Hall of Fame for both football and track.

Burton graduated from Miami in 1956, played a year of pro ball with the Ottawa Rough Riders, then taught and coached in Cincinnati on the junior and senior high levels for nine years. He was offensive and defensive backfield coach at Central State of Ohio for a year before returning as an assistant coach to Miami of Ohio where he completed his master's degree.

Burton and his wife, Sue, have two children, Ellen and Mark.

"We return virtually the same cast of players as a year ago. We expect their added experience to make them even better players."

JERRY HANLON (HAN-lun)
Offensive Line

Jerry Hanlon, the senior staff member, coaches Michigan's offensive line. Hanlon, from North Bend, Ohio, was an offensive halfback during the 1953-55 seasons at Miami. He played halfback on the Redskin teams that won two Mid-American Conference titles. His college coach was Ara Parseghian.

As a player, Hanlon's college teams achieved a 24-2-1 record, while his teams at Taylor High School were 25-1-1.

Following graduation from Miami, Hanlon returned to Taylor for a year as assistant football coach, then coached at Canton Catholic, Youngstown and Cleveland St. Edwards before joining the staff at the University of Dayton in 1964. The following year he joined Schembechler at Miami Of Ohio.

He has been in charge of Michigan's offensive line since 1969. Those lines have keyed an assault on most team rushing records. Eight All-American linemen have been developed under Hanlon at Michigan. Jerry was made an honorary "M" Club member in the spring of 1980.

Hanlon is married to the former Anne Hatfield, a native of Norma, Tennessee, The couple has two sons, Scott and Mickey, and a daughter, Kelly Ann.

"We have solid people at the starting spots but due to some position switches we must develop better depth."

PAUL SCHUDEL (Shu-DEL)
Offensive Interior Line

Paul Schudel, a former player and graduate assistant at Miami of Ohio under Bo Schembechler, rejoined his former boss in 1975 as a member of the Michigan football staff.

Schudel developed two All-American linemen in 1977, center Walt Downing and guard Mark Donahue, who repeated his '76 selection. Last year, center George Lilja joined that list.

Schudel served as offensive line coach at Syracuse during 1974 for former Michigan assistant Frank Maloney. Prior to that, Schudel spent two years as offensive line coach and offensive coordinator at William and Mary, two years as offensive line coach at Colorado State, two years in the same duties at New Hampshire and two years as a graduate assistant at Miami.

Schudel graduated from Swanton (Ohio) High in 1962 after earning 11 letters. He played three years as offensive tackle for Schembechler at Miami and was tri-captain his senior year and earned Academic All-American honors. Schudel graduated in 1966 with a Bachelor of Science Degree with a major in mathematics and received his masters degree in education from Miami in 1968.

Schudel is married to the former Mary Burkhart of Perrysburg, Ohio. They have two children, Jennifer and Glenn.

"We will be relatively young and inexperienced as compared to last year but we have a number of good young players who should improve as the season progresses."

their first three games, but rebounded with nine consecutive wins to win the Big Ten title and the Rose Bowl. "It was a very rewarding year," says Schembechler. "We were young and got off to a tough start. It seemed like everyone except ourselves gave up on us. We kept working and kept improving and during the last few weeks everything started to come together." There should be no doubt that Schembechler had a lot to do with the transformation.

Schembechler was a prep football all-stater at Barberton High School. He continued his football career at Miami of Ohio where he was an offensive tackle for three seasons. He played under George Blackburn and Woody Hayes. He was also a fine lefthander for the Miami baseball team.

He graduated in 1951 and received a master's degree in 1952 at Ohio State where he served as a graduate assistant coach. After serving in the U.S. Army, he was a line coach at Presbyterian College in 1954, a line coach at Bowling Green in 1955, then joined Ara Parseghian's staff at Northwestern in 1956 before serving the next five seasons as an assistant at Ohio State. He was appointed head football coach at Miami of Ohio in 1963.

Schembechler annually conducts a coaching clinic for high school coaches that is regarded as one of the most informative such events in the nation. He also attends a series of alumni gatherings during the summer. Schembechler is featured in a weekly television show in Detroit and on a state network called "Michigan Replay."

Bo and his wife, Millie, have four children; Chip, Geoff, Matt and Shemy.

Bo Schembechler
Head Coach
13th Season

Record: 114-21-3

Glenn E. 'Bo' Schembechler, the dean of Big Ten coaches, came to the University of Michigan in 1969. In twelve seasons he has established himself as one of the finest collegiate football coaches in history.

Schembechler's Michigan contingents have accumulated nine Big Ten championships. The outright championships came in 1971 and last year. During his 12 years at the helm, the Wolverines have compiled a sparkling 114-21-3 overall record (83.7%) During the last 12 years, the Wolverines have appeared in eight bowl games (six Rose Bowl trips, one Orange Bowl and one Gator Bowl appearance).

Since coming to Michigan in 1969 after serving for six years as the head coach at Miami of Ohio (40-17-3 overall record), this former Barberton, Ohio native has achieved a great deal. Following are some of his most notable achievements:

- ★ During the 1970's, his regular season record of 96-10-3 was the finest in the nation.
- ★ His 114 wins at Michigan make him the second winningest all-time coach in the school's rich football history, next to Fielding Yost's 165 victories.
- ★ Twenty-five Michigan players have earned All-American status in his 12 seasons.
- ★ Michigan went ten consecutive seasons (1969-78) ranked in the top ten in the final AP and UPI polls. They were the only team in the nation that could state that during that time frame. Eleven of his 12 Michigan teams have finished the season ranked in the Top Ten.
- ★ His 154-38-6 record in 18 years as a head coach is the third best winning percentage (.792) among active coaches.
- ★ Nine of his 12 teams have either won or tied for the Big Ten Championship.
- ★ He has never had one losing season in 18 years as a head coach. Only twice (1967 at Miami and 1979 at Michigan) has he suffered more than three setbacks in one season. He had four losses in both of those campaigns.
- ★ Eight of his 12 teams have gone to Bowl games. Michigan has gone to a Bowl game in each of the past six years.
- ★ Eight of his twelve teams at Michigan have won 10 or more games in a season.
- ★ He has a sparkling 88.8% (83-10-1) record against Big Ten teams.
- ★ During the 1970's, his teams were ranked eight or higher in seven national statistical categories, including first in won-lost record (96-10-3), first in rushing defense (106.6), first in total defense (226.3) and first in scoring defense (8.04).
- ★ He was named National Coach of the Year in 1969 as well as Mid-American Coach of the Year in 1965, and Big Ten Coach of the Year in 1972 and 1980.
- ★ Nine of his assistant coaches have been named head coaches.

Schembechler might very well have done his finest coaching job ever last fall. The Wolverines had just three seniors on defense and four on offense. The young club lost two of five of the last six games. He finished with 40 total tackles. Coles (6-2, 237) started three games at tackle in mid-season and registered 34 tackles including four QB sacks. The Wolverine lose an outstanding performer at this spot in Mike Trgovac. The 6-2, 235 pounder was a second-team All-American last fall as well as two-time All-Big Ten selection. He also brought a great many intangibles to the squad. There are some other players that Schembechler wants to take a good look at for these spots as the Wolverines were somewhat thin in the defensive line last fall.

OUTSIDE LINEBACKERS: Mel Owens, a 6-2, 236 pounder who possessed fine speed, is lost through graduation. Owens, an All-Big Ten and honorable mention All-American selection, ranked third on last year's team with 100 tackles. Junior Robert Thompson was overshadowed at the linebacking spots last fall by Owens and Andy Cannavino but he was one of many players on the defensive unit that improved greatly throughout the campaign. Thompson was fourth on the team in tackles with 84 and he was first on the unit in tackles for losses (15 for 60 yards). The 6-3, 219 pounder has fine quickness. Junior Mike Lemirande (6-4, 220), and sophomores Carlton Rose (6-1, 205) and Rodney Lyles (6-2, 214), are leading contenders for this post. Senior Ben Needham (6-4, 210) returns after missing the '80 season. If he doesn't start on the outside, he is expected to nail down a spot at one of the inside backer positions.

INSIDE LINEBACKERS: Michigan loses one of the finer linbackers in the nation last fall in Andy Cannavino. Cannavino, the only unanimous choice to the All-Big Ten team as selected by the coaches, led the Wolverines in tackles for the second consecutive year with 168, 54 more than the next highest player (Paul Girgash's 114). Cannavino, a second team All-American, finished his Wolverine career as the school's second all-time leading tackler with 385 tackles. He along with Mike Trgovac and Mel Owens kept the defensive unit together last year during the early part of the season. Junior Paul Girgash (6-1, 205) returns at the inside backer post. His 114 tackles ranked second on the squad. Junior Jim Herrmann (6-2, 212), sophomore Mike Boren (6-2, 217), and Needham, are the leading candidates for Cannavino's place.

SECONDARY: This could be the most solid part of the Wolverine defense especially early in the year. All four starters from a unit that surrendered just three TD passes in twelve games last year return. The corners are manned by senior Brian Carpenter and junior Marion Body. Both registered five interceptions last fall to tie for the club leadership in that category. Body's 49 tackles were the high for a defensive back. Senior Tony Jackson returns at free safety while junior Keith Bostic, a converted free-safety, returns at the strong safety spot. The Wolverines also have other fine athletes in the secondary. Stu Harris, a fifth year senior who missed last fall with an injury after starting at strong-safety in 1979, junior Jeff Reaves, junior Jeff Cohen, and sophomores Evan Cooper and Harry Gosier give Michigan some real solid depth.

Robert Thompson – another in a long line of outstanding Michigan linebackers

KICKING GAME

The Wolverines enter the 1981 season with a solid tandem. Sophomore Don Bracken and junior Ali Haji-Sheikh vastly improved the Michigan kicking game last fall. Bracken's 42.7 average last year as a freshman, set a new school season record. That mark was the second best in the nation for a freshman, and 15th best over-all in the country. He had a number of outstanding punts including a 73-yarder in the Rose Bowl against Washington, a new record for that bowl classic. Sheikh was 11 for 17 in field goals (9 of 12 inside the forty) and 37 of 40 on extra points. His 11 field goals tied a Michigan record for the most three-pointers in one campaign. His deep kickoffs also helped the kicking game.

team the nation. Last fall the trio of Butch Woolfolk (6-2, 207), Stan Edwards (6-0, 208) and Larry Ricks (5-10, 195) rushed for over 2,700 yards as a unit. Each of those backs rushed for at least 850 yards giving Michigan great balance in their running game. Woolfolk, the MVP in the Rose Bowl with 182 yards rushing in the 23-6 win over Washington, led the squad in rushing for the second consecutive year with 1,042 yards. He ranks seventh on the all-time school rushing list with 2,402 yards. A 916-yard effort this fall will vault him ahead of Rob Lytle (3,317) as Michigan's all-time leading ground gainer. Ricks, a junior who started 6 games last fall, gained 850 yards while averaging 5.1 yards a carry. Edwards, a fifth-year senior who made the switch from tailback to fullback last year, gained 901 yards on the ground. Both he and Woolfolk scored eight TD's rushing while Ricks chipped in with six. Edwards was an honorable mention All-American selection last fall and he, too, is moving up on the all-time Michigan rushing list. He has 1,760 yards to his credit and barring injury, he will become only the 11th back in Wolverine history to go over the 2,000 yard career mark. Junior Jerald Ingram (6-1, 217) backs up Edwards at fullback. He gained 145 yards last fall before suffering a knee injury late in the regular season that sidelined him for the balance of the year.

DEFENSE

The Wolverines return eight of eleven starters and 22 lettermen from a unit that did not permit a touchdown in the last 22-plus quarters of play in 1980 (334 minutes and eight seconds). During the last five games against Indiana, Wisconsin, Purdue, Ohio State and Washington the stop-troops yielded just nine total points (3 vs Ohio State and 6 vs Washington).

The number of returnees is impressive, but the three graduates (tackle Mike Trgovac, and linebackers Andy Cannavino and Mel Owens) were considered the squad's top three defensive players last year. Unlike last year however, the unit's nucleus is much stronger entering the new campaign.

TACKLE: Juniors Winfred Carraway and Cedric Coles are the leading candidates to nail down these two posts. Carraway (6-3, 230) improved a great deal throughout last campaign and started at one tackle spot in

Triple Threat—the trio of fullback Stanley Edwards and tailbacks Butch Woolfolk and Lawrence Ricks accounted for over 2,700 rushing yards last season

LINE: The Wolverines lose an outstanding center in George Lilja (an All-American) and an outstanding guard, John Powers (All-Big Ten and honorable mention All-American), but the nucleus for a very solid group still returns. In senior William "Bubba" Paris (6-6, 270) and junior Ed Muransky (6-7, 275), Michigan might have as fine a tackle tandem as any in the U.S. Both were All-Big Ten first-team choices last fall as well as honorable mention all-Americans. Senior guard Kurt Becker (6-6, 260), also an All-Big Ten and honorable mention All-American last fall, is on the verge of becoming perhaps the finest guard in Bo Schembechler's 13 years at Michigan. He was considered to be Michigan's most consistent lineman last fall by the coaching staff. The Wolverine staff feels Becker could be the top offensive lineman in the nation.

At center, juniors Jeff Felten (6-2, 223) and Tom Garrity (6-4, 245) and sophomore Tom Dixon (6-1, 230) are the leading candidates to replace All-American George Lilja (a fourth round selection by the L.A. Rams last spring). "The value of an outstanding center like George Lilja should not be underestimated," says Schembechler.

Becker holds done one guard spot with the other still up for grabs heading into fall camp. Junior Rich Strenger (6-7, 254) and sophomore Stefan Humphries (6-3, 240) are the best bets for the starting nod.

Kurt Becker – perhaps the nation's finest offensive lineman

RECEIVERS: Michigan returns the finest at this position in the nation, in the person of Anthony Carter. The Florida native has accomplished so much in just two years that at times people have a tendency to forget that his Wolverine career is just half over. Carter, 10th in the Heisman ballotting last year, became just the second sophomore at Michigan – first since 1925 – to be accorded first-team All-American honors. He enters the 1981 season with a tag of being the country's top big-play specialist. He has averaged a sparkling 16.4 yards every time he's touched the ball during his career. Last year he hauled in 51 passes for 818 yards (16.0 average) and 14 TD's, a new season record. His 21 career TD receptions is already a school record. Nearly once in every seven times that he's touched the ball at Michigan he's scored a touchdown. His 28.5 kickoff return average was second best in the nation last fall.

Alan Mitchell (13 catches for 225 yards) leaves an opening at the split-end post with graduation. Senior Fred Brockington, junior Kenny Gear and sophomore Vince Bean are the leading candidates to fill that vacant spot. Perhaps a frosh could help at this position.

At tight-end, the Wolvernes return Norm Betts and Craig Dunaway. Betts started 11 of 12 games last year and was second on the club in receptions with 17 for 161 yards. Dunaway had nine grabs for 135 markers. Sophomores Milt Carthens and Mike Wilson are also expected to get a good look.

QUARTERBACK: This is one spot that will draw more than the normal amount of attention. John Wangler, the school's second all-time leading passer, has graduated. The battle for his spot is expected to be very competitive with junior Rich Hewlett and three sophomores, Steve Smith, David Hall and Greg Powell – all in the picture. Senior B.J. Dickey also returns after missing the '80 season. Hewlett (6-1, 197) started the first two games last fall against Northwestern and Notre Dame before giving way to Wangler. On the year he was 7 for 17 for 118 yards and two TD's. Smith (6-0, 191), a very highly skilled athlete, got off to a slow start last year after suffering a bruised shoulder in training camp. By season's end, however, he and Hewlett were in a virtual tie for the backup spot to Wangler. Smith was 3 for 6. Their presence might bring the option back into Michigan's offensive picture. Neither Hall nor Powell saw action at the varsity level last year, but both are highly respected by the Wolverine coaching staff.

RUNNING BACK: The Wolverines enter the new season as solid here as any other top

1981 Prospectus

Bo Schembechler enters his 13th campaign at Michigan with not nearly the number of question marks he had a year ago.

The veteran mentor, who has compiled a sparkling 114-21-3 record in his twelve previous years at Michigan, entered the 1980 campaign with a squad that had to replace eight starters on defense, five on offense, and had no proven kicking game. His young contingent struggled early in 1980, losing two of their first three games, but by season's end the Wolverines were back among the nation's elite. Schembechler turned in perhaps his finest coaching job at Michigan as he took a team that had only eight seniors listed among the top 44 player to nine straight victories. In the process the Wolverines went unbeaten in Big Ten play, defeated Washington 23-6 in the Rose Bowl, and finished the season ranked fourth in both wire service polls with a 10-2 record.

1981 sees a squad that returns 17 of 24 starters from that contingent, 7 on offense, eight on defense and both specialists. At least on paper, the Wolverines appear ready to challenge for high national honors.

"There is no question we have more people returning this year than last," says the man whose 154 career collegiate victories trails only Bear Bryant and Bob Blackman among active coaches at the Division I level, "but quantity doesn't automatically win football games. Quality and attitude do. We didn't lose many people from last year's team, but the ones we did were quality people and players. Their leadership was exceptional last fall."

"The key to our seccess once again is what the defense does. If the defense plays well, we'll be okay."

When Schembechler starts to talk about the '81 contingent he sounds like a baseball manager for a split second. "We must rebuild down the middle," says the Big Ten's Coach of the Year last fall. "On offense we have to replace a center, guard, and quarterback and end. It's hard to predict great success with no real established quarterback. On defense we have to find people to replace tackle Mike Trgovac and linebackers Mel Owens (a first-round choice in the draft by the L.A. Rams) and Andy Cannavino."

There are areas of the 1981 contingent that appear very solid entering the new year. The Wolverines return a great receiver in Anthony Carter, three fine running backs (Butch Woolfolk, Larry Ricks and Stan Edwards) who rushed for over 2,700 yards last year as a trio, and three outstanding offensive linemen. Tackles Bubba Paris and Ed Muransky and guard Kurt Becker were all first-team Big Ten selections last year as well as honorable mention All-American honorees.

On defense, all four starters return in the secondary. The foursome of Brian Carpenter, Marion Body, Keith Bostic and Tony Jackson permitted just three TD passes all last fall. Robert Thompson and Paul Girgash return at the linebacking posts, Jeff Shaw is back at middle guard and Winfred Carraway at tackle. Don Bracken, a record holder in his freshman year, is back to handle the punting chores while junior Ali Haji-Sheikh is back to take care of the place-kicking duties.

Following is a closer look at the Wolverines by position:

Anthony Carter—college football's top big-play specialist.

OFFENSE

Seven starters and 24 letter-winners return from a unit that averaged nearly 30 points a game over the last nine contests. Patching up the middle of the offensive line and replacing John Wangler at quarterback will draw the most attention.

Don Canham
Athletic Director

Don Canham, one of this nation's most reknowned athletic administrators, continues to keep Michgan's program at the forefront of collegiate athletics. Innovation and creativity have been at the heart of his extremely successful thirteen year administration.

When Canham was named the fifth athletic director in Michigan history in 1968, he launched a major direct mail and advertising program to sell football tickets, but he also established a series of fund-raising clubs, organized parking and concessions and developed a line of specialty items (souvenirs)...all of which became major sources of revenue.

Meanwhile, Canham has supervised a competitive athletic program that in 13 seasons has won 46 Big Ten championships (Michigan's total is a conference record 214). Additionally, Michigan has broken numerous NCAA attendance records over the last five years.

Michigan's intercollegiate program includes 22 varsity sports for men and women with an annual budget in excess of $11 million. The department is self-sufficient.

Despite the eroding effects of inflation, Canham continues to expand and improve Michigan's impressive physical plant.

During the last decade Canham has earmarked more than $7 million for plant expansion and improvements. Additionally, he was a key mover in the $7.2 million construction of new recreational sports facilities that gave Michigan one of the largest indoor complexes in the nation, some 333,000 square feet.

Other projects completed in the last decade include: construction of a Sports Service Building, the Indoor Track/Tennis Building which is used for varsity and university recreational purposes; remodeling of Yost Fieldhouse into an 8,100-seat ice arena; construction of an all-weather outdoor track; construction of an artificial surface practice field with lights; improvements on the baseball stadium; a continuing renovation program for Michigan Stadium; and the construction of a new fieldhouse which contains an entire artificial surface football field, the only one of its kind in the nation. A new weight room and training facility for women athletics was also completed last spring.

Special events have kept Michigan's facilities operating at near capacity. Canham has scheduled a Slippery Rock-Shippensburg State and Slippery Rock-Wayne State football game at Michigan Stadium when the Wolverines squad was on the road. A Pro-Celebrity Golf Tournament held in conjunction with the Michigan Hall of Honor Night, The Michigan Golf Open, NIT basketball games, State High School Championships, and a complete and extensive Summer Sports Camp are just some of the many special programs that Canham has organized in his 13 years at the helm.

Building administrative and coaching staffs remains a priority. Promotions and retirements have forced complete turnovers in all but one sport, but the tradition of winning continues.

Nationally, Canham serves on various Big Ten and NCAA committees. He is invited by other universities and business groups to speak on promotion and administration. He has been elected to the Michigan Sports Hall of Fame and the U.S. Track and Field Federation Hall of Fame. He has developed the first National Sports Promotion and Marketing Clinic.

Canham was Michigan's track captain and NCAA high jump champion during his undergraduate years. He served in the Army Air Force, coached and taught at Kankakee, Ill. High School, was an assistant track coach at Michigan for two years before being named head coach in 1948. His Wolverine teams won 12 Big Ten titles in 19 years. During this time he built a highly successful sports equipment business that was placed in trust upon his appointment as athletic director.

Canham and his wife Marilyn, have a son, Don Jr., and a daughter, Clare, both University of Michigan graduates.

Harold T. Shapiro President

Harold T. Shapiro became the University of Michigan's tenth president on January 1, 1980. A professor of economics and public policy at Michigan, he is one of the nation's ablest young economists. He is known for his research and writing in economic forecasting, public policy analysis, and econometrics.

With Economics Department Chairman Saul H. Hymans, Shapiro for the past decade has directed the Research Seminar in Quantitative Economics, which produces highly respected forecasts of national and regional economic activity.

Shapiro has established a reputation as one of U-M's best classroom teachers since joining the faculty in 1964. He was a member of the University Budget Priorities Committee (1972-74) before chairing it until 1977. He also chaired the Department of Economics from 1974 to 1977. From then through 1979 he was vice-president for academic affairs and chairman of the U-M Budget Administration Committee.

For years he has had important connections with econometric model builders and forecasters throughout North America and Eastern and Western Europe. Over the last decade he has served as an economic advisor and consultant to key economic agencies of the U.S. and Canadian governments and the state of Michigan.

He has been senior research associate of the Brookings Institution, research advisor of the Bank of Canada, consultant to the U.S. Treasury, research consultant to the Economic Council of Canada, and a member of the Council of the American Statistical Association.

His bachelor's degree was earned at McGill University. M.A. and Ph.D. degrees followed at Princeton University.

Shapiro was a member of the high school swim and water polo teams and played hockey and basketball through those years in Montreal, his birthplace. President and Mrs. Shapiro and their four daughters are now American citizens.

Thomas J. Anton Faculty Representative

Tom Anton begins his third year as Michigan's faculty representative, the third person to hold that position since Ralph Aigler first was appointed in 1915. Anton, a professor of political science, replaced Marcus Plant, Michigan's distinguished professor of law and former president of the NCAA who retired after 24 years of service.

Anton, who received his master's and Ph.D. degrees from Princeton, was a four-letter winner in both baseball and basketball at Clark University in Massachusetts and co-captain of the basketball team. A resident scientist in Michigan Institute of Public Policy Studies, Anton's major athletic endeavor now is golf.

School of Music

quite different from the stereotype of the large, "mass education" university one hears about.

Michigan's schools and colleges cover the spectrum of human knowledge. To them for an education have come more than 253,000 degree holders, including the three-man crew of Apollo 15. Last year 24 percent of the student body came from all the other states in the nation, while another 5.3 percent were from some 100 other countries.

During 1978-79 sponsored research volume at Michigan totaled $98,571,956. Projects ranged from abstract theoretical studies of the atom to methods of reducing the number and severity of highway accidents. The monthly survey of consumer sentiment is a nationally respected barometer of the nation's economic health. Practical holography or three-dimensional photography was invented at Michigan, while the scholarly renowned Middle English Dictionary is being compiled on the campus.

On the North Campus, the Phoenix Project has for three decades sought peaceful uses of atomic energy. A few hundred feet away, the Gerald R. Ford Presidential Library houses the papers of one of Michigan's most famous alumni.

The Medical Center's 25 buildings comprise one of the largest concentrations of health care facilities in the world. The area includes one of the nation's major medical schools, the largest baccalaureate school of nursing, and the nation's first University Hospital.

Michigan's faculty includes 13 members of the National Academy of Sciences and many presidents of national scholarly organizations. The U-M library system is the fifth largest university system in the country, with more than five million volumes.

The University is truly a state resource and a national asset.

Facts About Michigan

The University

Academically, Michigan ranks among the foremost universities in America. A survey of professional school deans not long ago rated U-M in the top 10 in 13 of the 18 professional areas surveyed, "the best overall record" in the words of The Los Angeles Times. The survey found "Five universities with outstanding reputations – Berkeley, Chicago, Columbia, Harvard and Michigan – have the greatest numbers of top-ranking professional schools."

Other recent surveys have found the following: 4,000 faculty members nationally ranked U-M among the top four universities; the College of Engineering was first for graduate level academics in three of seven fields surveyed; deans of business administration schools placed the employment value of a U-M M.B.A. degree among the top five and rated Michigan's executive programs among the top four; more top business executives earned degrees from U-M than from any other public college or university; and medical school faculty members ranked U-M among the top eight such schools.

U-M students appreciate this, evidently. The majority of students in 554 classes recently rated 90 percent of their courses as "excellent." Ninety percent of the classes rated the instructor as an excellent teacher. The U-M faculty survey noted the results are

Northwestern

GAME 1 – Sept. 13, Ann Arbor, MI
Mich. 17, N'western 10
Attendance: 100,824

Northwestern	0	3	0	7–10
Michigan	3	7	0	7–17

Andy Cannavino's goal-line interception with less than two minutes left in the game clinched Michigan's 17-10 opening game victory over stubborn Northwestern. The Wildcats, who had erased Wolverine leads twice during the contest, drove 66 yards to the Michigan seven-yard line, before a quarterback sack and Cannavino's interception sealed the victory for the Maize and Blue.

With their running attack hampered by a rain-soaked field, the Wolverines turned to the air for their big plays, and Anthony Carter responded with two touchdown receptions, including the game-winner with 10:59 remaining. Rich Hewlett threw both scoring passes, but completed only one other attempt, as the Wolverine offense sputtered, falling prey to both the bad weather, and to Northwestern's ball-possession tactics, which enabled the Wildcats to run 17 more plays than Michigan.

Cannavino's 27 tackles, fumble recovery, and interception earned him Defensive Player of the Week honors, while Carter's four catches and two TD's captured the Offensive MVP award. The touchdown receptions gave Carter nine for his career, the sixth highest total in Michigan history.

A great Michigan comeback was dashed when Harry Oliver booted a 51-yard field goal on the game's final play to give the Fighting Irish a 29-27 victory. Only 41 seconds before, John Wangler had capped a 78-yard scoring drive by tossing a 1-yard TD pass to Craig Dunaway, the sophomore's first-ever reception at Michigan.

The Wolverines trailed 14-0 when Wangler entered the game and threw TD passes to Lawrence Ricks and Norm Betts in the final 1:50 of the first half. Anthony Carter's 67-yard return of the second half kickoff set up Stan Edwards' 2-yard run that put Michigan ahead, but Notre Dame answered with 2 TDs, the 2nd with 3:03 left in the game, to set the stage for the wild finish.

For the second straight year, Michigan dominated the Irish statistically but lost the game. The Wolverines allowed only 234 yards in total offense while accumulating 330. Wangler's 3 TD passes off the bench tied a Michigan record.

For the second consecutive week, the game was decided on the final play and Michigan found itself on the short end of the score once again. The Wolverines drove 80 yards in the final 2:20 of the game, but John Wangler's final desperation pass rolled off Anthony Carter's fingertips in the end zone as the final gun sounded.

Michigan built a 14-3 halftime lead on 2 Wangler to Carter touchdown passes, the 10th and 11th of Carter's career. The Wolverines sought to put the game away in the 3rd quarter, but a 7½ minute, 80-yard drive ended when Stan Edwards fumbled into the end zone. South Carolina's ball-control offense then took over the game, spearheaded by Heisman Trophy candidate George Rogers who rushed for 142 yards on the day. The Gamecocks scored twice and threatened to make the score 24-14 when Robert Thompson intercepted a pass in the end zone to keep Michigan in the game and set up the final drive.

Wangler played the entire game for the first time all season, and attempted a career-high 30 passes, completing 17, another career high Anthony Carter caught 8 for 94 yards and Alan Mitchell grabbed 4 for 72 yards.

Michigan, losers of 5 of its last 6 games, faced a crucial contest against Heisman Trophy candidate Rich Campbell and California. Although the Golden Bears' golden boy was able to pass for 249 yards, the game was decided on the ground, where the Wolverines rushed for 388 yards to California's 83.

Michigan built a 17-3 halftime lead on TD runs by Lawrence Ricks and Stan Edwards and an Ali Haji-Sheikh field goal, but California narrowed the gap to 17-13 in the third quarter. John Wangler then led a six-minute, 76-yard drive which culminated in a 2-yard Ricks TD run. Key plays in the drive were a Wangler to Mitchell pass for 18 yards on 3rd an 8 and a 34-yard run by Ricks on a draw in a 2nd and 15 situation.

Cal's next drive resulted in a missed field goal, and the Wolverines drove the final nails into the Bears' coffin with two more rushing TDs, one each by Edwards and Butch Woolfolk. For the first time in 12 games, Michigan failed to throw a touchdown pass, but Ricks' 184 rushing yards and Edwards' 126 on the ground more than compensated.

Michigan survived a barrage of long-distance kicking to win the annual intrastate clash with the Spartans. The Wolverines tallied 10 points in a 24 second span in the first quarter to open the scoring, before yielding their first first-quarter points of the season, a 49-yard field goal by Morten Andersen. Another Haji-Sheikh field goal gave Michigan a 13-10 second quarter lead, but Andersen booted a 57-yard field goal, the longest ever kicked against the Wolverines, to knot the score at halftime.

The game's key play occurred midway through the third period. Haji-Sheikh kicked his 3rd field goal of the day, a 36-yarder, but MSU was called for roughing him, and Michigan elected to forsake 3 points to go for 7. John Wangler's 4-yard scoring toss to Anthony Carter made the gamble pay off, and a fourth quarter Wangler pass to Craig Dunaway answered yet another Andersen field goal. MSU managed to close the gap to 27-23 late in the game, but Don Bracken's punts kept the Spartans pinned deep in their own end of the field. On the game, Bracken outkicked MSU's Ray Stachowicz, the nation's leading punter, and was awarded Kicking Team Champion honors.

Limited to 165 rushing yards, Michigan turned to the air to win the battle for the Little Brown Jug. John Wangler and freshman Steve Smith, making his first appearance as a Wolverine, combined for 238 passing yards, Michigan's highest total of the season.

With the Wolverines nursing a 10-7 lead in the second quarter, Cedric Coles recovered a Gopher fumble on the Minnesota 5-yard line. Butch Woolfolk scored his second TD of the game, and Michigan led 17-7. A Haji-Sheikh field goal upped the lead to 20-7, before the Gophers fumbled on their own 8-yard line and Coles again recovered for Michigan. The two fumble recoveries earned Coles UPI Defensive Player of the Week honors, and gave Michigan a 23-7 lead at the half.

The Wolverines locked the game up in the 2nd half on two Wangler to Carter TD passes, the sophomore sensation's 13th and 14th of his career. In all, Carter caught 9 passes for 142 yards, the finest afternoon of his career, as Michigan won going away.

In front of an ABC-TV regional audience, Michigan endured a passing blitz from Illini quarterback Dave Wilson, ran up 545 yards in total offense, and won for the fourth straight time. The Wolverines led all the way after Butch Woolfolk scored from 1 yard out and Anthony Carter caught a 25-yard TD pass from John Wangler, bringing him to within one scoring reception of Michigan's career record Wilson threw a TD pass for Illinois to cut the lead to 14-7, providing both the only touchdown yielded by the Wolverines in the first period all season, and the final TD pass Michigan would allow on the year.

A Haji-Sheikh field goal and a Jerald Ingram TD run put Michigan in command, 24-7, but Illinois narrowed the advantage to 24-14 on Wayne Strader's TD plunge with 4:08 left in the 2nd quarter. It would be the final touchdown scored by a Michigan opponent all season. Lawrence Ricks scored before halftime, and Stan Edwards and Ingram added 2nd half scores to provide the final margin.

Wilson's 53 pass attempts set an all-time record against Michigan, but the Illini only managed 19 yards on the ground against the improving Wolverine defense. Edwards rushed for a career high 152 yards, but Anthony Carter captured ABC Player of the Game honors for his 5 catches for 121 yards and 1 TD.

The Wolverines traveled to Indiana expecting a close game, but 3 first quarter touchdowns and a defense that forced 7 Hoosier turnovers turned the game into a rout. Lawrence Ricks opened the scoring 4 minutes into the game on a 29-yard burst up the middle, and after Indiana fumbled the ensuing kickoff, Ricks scored 10 seconds after his first TD run. Andy Cannavino recovered a Hoosier fumble late in the quarter, and Wangler quickly capitalized with a 34-yard TD pass to Anthony Carter. The catch gave Carter 16 TD receptions in his career, tying the Michigan career record held by Dick Rifenburg.

Keith Bostic's interception on Indiana's first possession of the 2nd half gave Michigan good field position again, and Stan Edwards capped a 5-play drive with a 16-yard dash. Indiana's Tim Clifford continued to go to the air, but Brian Carpenter's 4th quarter interception stopped the Hoosiers' final scoring threat, and Butch Woolfolk raced 64 yards for the game's final points two plays later Woolfolk's TD run was the Wolverines' longest scrimmage play of the year.

Michigan's defense limited the Hoosiers to 13 first downs and 117 passing yards. The Wolverine offense compiled 470 yards, with Woolfolk gaining 152 and Ricks adding 123. Don Bracken added a 71-yard punt, the longest kick for Michigan in over 12 years.

Michigan's offense sputtered in Madison, but the defense continued to perform brilliantly, posting consecutive shutout quarters #7-10. The Wolverines failed to gain a first down in the game's first 22 minutes, but Rich Strenger's recovery of a fumbled punt set up a Haji-Sheikh field goal, and the Michigan offense finally clicked when John Wangler hit Anthony Carter with a 4-yard TD pass just before halftime. With the catch, Carter became the all-time 'M' leader in touchdown receptions.

Michigan drove 61 yards for a third quarter TD, which was set up by the oddest sequence of the season. With a fourth-and-one at the Badger 4-yard line, Wangler couldn't call signals over the roar of the crowd. Wisconsin received two warnings, before being assessed 3 time outs and two penalties, giving the Wolverines a first down at the one. From there, Butch Woolfolk scored on a quick-count play, putting the game out of reach.

Wisconsin was held to 43 yards passing and 223 yards in total offense, and Michigan looked ahead to the two remaining showdowns for the league title.

In front of a national ABC-TV audience, Michigan faced a must win situation to keep its Rose Bowl hopes alive. With Heisman Trophy candidate Mark Herrmann, the NCAA's all-time leading passer, providing the oppostion, Michigan's string of 10 shutout quarters figured to be in jeopardy.

It was never a contest. Herrmann was held to 129 yards passing, and the Boilermakers couldn't pick up a first down in the final 36 minutes of the game. The Wolverines scored on their first two possessions, on Stan Edwards' 3-yard run and a 22-yard Wangler to Carter TD pass. Tony Jackson thwarted Purdue's only real scoring opportunity with an end-zone interception in the 2nd quarter, the first of two thefts for him and four for the Wolverines.

Butch Woolfolk's 4th quarter TD dive stretched the lead to 19-0, culminating a drive highlighted by Edwards' 30-yard run. A second TD pass to Carter ended the scoring and the Boilermakers' Rose Bowl hopes. On the day, Purdue was held to 65 yards rushing and 194 yards in total offense. Michigan rolled up 428 yards in offense, while the defense completed shutout quarters #11-14. Edwards rushed for a career-high 164 yards to win ABC Player of the Game honors for the 3rd time in 2 seasons, and Wangler passed for 165 yards, outgunning Herrmann for the 2nd consecutive year.

Ohio State	0	3	0	0–3

For the 11th time in 12 years, Michigan and Ohio State met to determine the Big Ten champion and Rose Bowl representative. The Wolverines dominated the first quarter, but missed their only scoring chance, a 38-yard field goal try.

Haji-Sheikh tied the game with a 43-yard field goal, and a Wolverine drive in the last minute of the half set him up again, but he missed as the 2nd quarter ended.

The tenacious Wolverine defense forced the game-deciding break 3 minutes into the 3rd period. Schlichter hit Williams with a crossing pass, but Marion Body's tackle jarred the ball loose and Tony Jackson recovered for Michigan. Six minutes later, the Wolverines were in the end zone, as John Wangler tossed a 13-yard pass to Anthony Carter.

OSU had two scoring chances in the 4th quarter. Janakievski missed a 35-yard field goal with 12 minutes left, but in the game's final minute, Schlichter moved the Buckeyes to Michigan's 32-yard line. Michigan's defense then crushed the Bucks' title hopes, forcing an intentional grounding penalty, then Robert Thompson sacked Schlichter to turn the ball back to Michigan.

Woolfolk's 141 yards rushing earned him ABC-TV Player of the Game honors, the defense ran its no-touchdown streak to 18 straight quarters, and the Wolverines won their eighth consecutive game.

Rose Bowl ★★★★★★★★★★★★★★★★★★★★

Jan. 1, 1981 – Pasadena, California
Michigan 23, Washington 6
Attendance: 104,863

Michigan	0	7	10	6 – 23
Washington	0	6	0	0 – 6

The Huskies compiled more total yards against the Michigan defense, 374, than any team had all season, but the Wolverines posted consecutive no-touchdown quarters #19-22 and Bo Schembechler won his first Rose Bowl in six tries.

Washington dominated the game early, and on their second drive, the Huskies reached the Michigan one-yard line. But the Wolverines stopped Toussaint Tyler cold on fourth down, and took the momentum from Washington. Butch Woolfolk put Michigan in the lead with a 6-yard TD burst near the half, and despite Chuck Nelson's two field goals, the Wolverines remained in command the rest of the way.

Ali Haji-Sheikh's 25-yard field goal capped a six-minute, 83-yard drive to open the second half, and John Wangler hit Anthony Carter for a seven-yard score, widening the margin to 17-6 with three minutes remaining in the third quarter. From there, the Wolverine defense took over, forcing an interception by Keith Bostic, and limiting the Huskies to 23 yards in total offense until the game's final minutes. Michigan clinched the victory on Stan Edwards' 1-yard TD dive only four minutes from the conclusion to provide the final margin.

Butch Woolfolk's 182 yards rushing earned him game MVP honors, while Carter caught five passes for 68 yards and a touchdown. Don Bracken's 73-yard punt in the first quarter set a Rose Bowl record, and the Wolverines committed no turnovers while picking off two Washington passes and recovering a fumble. The season which had looked so bleak after a 1-2 beginning thus concluded with nine straight Wolverine victories.

★ Notes on the 1980 Season ★

Michigan finished the season with a nine game win streak and an overall 10-2 mark. They were ranked fourth in both the final AP and UPI polls.

* * * * * *

Ten Michigan players received All-American honors last year.

* * * * * *

The Michigan defense ended the regular season ranked 13th in nation in rushing defense with a figure of 118.8 yards per game. They finished ninth in scoring defense with a mark of 11.2 points per game.

* * * * * *

Nine Michigan players were named first-team All-Big Ten last fall.

* * * * * *

Michigan possessed perhaps the most balanced running attack in the nation last year. Three Wolverine running backs rushed for at least 850 yards. Butch Woolfolk carried 196 times for 1,042 yards, Stan Edwards 192 for 901 yards, and Larry Ricks 167 for 850. The trio carried for a combined 2,793 yards.

* * * * * *

Michigan went a perfect 8-0 in Big Ten play. Last year's league title was the ninth in twelve seasons for Bo Schembechler as the Wolverines head mentor.

* * * * * *

The Michigan defense did not permit an opponent to cross the goal line in their last 22-plus quarters of action (334 minutes and 8 seconds). The Wolverine defense surrendered just nine total points in the last five-and-a-half games of 1980.

★MICHIGAN FOOTBALL★

An Unmatched Tradition of Excellence

Michigan went 56 consecutive games without a loss from 1901-1908.

Football tradition is built gradually, woven piece by piece over the years. It is earned over time. Michigan's outstanding football tradition is one that has been built during the course of 101 seasons of competition. The success achieved over that period of time clearly labels the Wolverines' football program as one that doesn't take a back seat to any other in the nation. Trying to draw out achievements in what has been a sea of success isn't easy, but here are some of the most notable Michigan accomplishments.

★ Their 623 total victories ranks fourth in the nation. That win total is the most of any team west of the Allegheny Mountains. Their overall winning percentage of .742 is the third highest in the country.

★ Seventy-eight Wolverine players have been honored with first-team All-American status.

★ Fifteen Michigan players and four Wolverine coaches have been inducted into the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame.

★ Michigan has captured 30 Big Ten titles in football, the most of any conference member.

★ Michigan won the first Rose Bowl game in 1902 defeating Stanford 49-0. The Wolverines have played in nine other Rose Bowls since, including last year's 23-6 win over Washington.

THE SCHEMBECHLER ERA
– Making the Michigan Football Tradition Even Richer

Bo Schembechler, the fourteenth head coach at Michigan, has more than added to the rich Wolverine football tradition during his 12 years at the helm. Here are some of the more notable achievements of the Schembechler era at Michigan.

★ Nine Big Ten titles in 12 years. Only Fielding Yost with ten league titles accomplished more at Michigan.

★ A 114-21-3 (83.6%) overall record. His record against Big Ten teams in his 12 years at the helm is 83-10-1 (88.8%)

★ Eleven of his 12 Michigan teams have ended the season ranked in the Top Ten.

★ Eight of his 12 Michigan squads have gone to bowl games, including each of the last six.

★ Twenty-five of Michigan's 78 All-Americans have played under Schembechler

★ Michigan's 96-10-3 regular season record during the decade of the 1970's was the best of any team in the nation

★ Eight of his twelve teams have won ten or more games in a season.

Michigan Football Awards

Each year, three special awards are given to players on the Michigan football team. The awards are the John F. Maulbetsch Award, the Meyer Morton Award, and the Frederick C. Matthaei Scholarship Award.

Maulbetsch Award

The John F. Maulbetsch Award is given to the freshman football candidate after spring practice on the basis of desire, character, capacity for leadership and future success both on and off the gridiron. It was established by Frederick C. Matthaei in 1954 in honor of the late John F. Maulbetsch, All-American halfback on the 1914 team.

Meyer Morton Award

The Meyer Morton Award is given to the football player who shows greatest development and most promise as a result of the annual spring practice. The award is given in honor of the late Meyer Morton, noted Big Ten official.

Matthaei Award

The Frederick C. Matthaei Award is given to the junior-to-be gridder who has displayed leadership, drive, and achievement on the athletic field and in the classroom. The award was established by Frederick C. Matthaei in 1968.

Ron Simpkins' 516 career tackles is tops on that All-Time list at Michigan.

An 83-yard pass from Rick Leach to Jim Smith in the 1975 game with Purdue is the longest in Wolverine history.

– Michigan Stadium –

A Big Part of the Wolverine Football Tradition

CAPACITY: 101,701 – largest college-owned structure of its kind designed solely for football – closer to the playing field with no running track – no posts or other obstructions. Ninety rows.

COMPLETION: 1927 – at a cost in excess of $950,000 to seat 72,000 spectators. Capacity raised to 84,401 by addition of temporary wooden bleachers until 1949 when permanent steel stands replaced the wooden bleachers, increasing the capacity to 97,239. Seating capacity then raised to 101,001 in 1956 and 101,701 in 1973.

Michigan Stadium 1927-1980

Won 231, Lost 79, Tied 14

FIRST GAME: October 1, 1927. Michigan led by Captain Bennie Oosterbaan, defeated Ohio Wesleylan, 33-0. LaVerne (Kip) Taylor, Michigan end, scored first in the stadium on a 28-yard pass from halfback Louis Gilbert.

DEDICATION GAME: October 22, 1927, Michigan defeated Ohio State, 21-0.

ATTENDANCE: Since 1927, 21,107,733 fans have watched the Wolverines play 324 games (Avg. 67,222). Stadium and NCAA attendance record of 106,255 set Nov. 17, 1979 against Ohio State. NCAA season record of 730,315 set in 1979.

FIELD: 1969 Installed Tartan Turf – 88,285 square feet. 360 x 160 feet. Playing area recovered in 1975.

STARTING TIME: Home Games – 1:00 p.m.

The last time Michigan suffered a loss by a shutout was in 1977 when Minnesota defeated the Wolverines 16-0.

History of Scoring

Before 1883 there were no numerical values attached to touchdowns, goals, ect. In determining the winner, such values as four touchdowns equaling one field goal and one touchdown equaling two safeties were established. Walter Camp established the first numerical values which were changed over the years to better represent their importance and difficulty in achieving.

Scoring Play	Numerical Values
	1883	'84	'87	'98	'04	'09	'12	'58

The University of Michigan Marching Band

The Michigan Marching Band enters the 1981 season as one of the most active and most respected bands in America. The director of the Michigan Marching Band is Eric A Becher, now in his second year at the helm. Before assuming the directorship last year, Mr. Becher received his Bachelor's and Master's degrees from the University of Michigan School of Music and was himself a member of the Marching Band for four years. He also served as assistant to former conductors Cavender and Richter.

This season's schedule will be another demanding one for members of the band. In addition to preparing and performing new pre-game and half-time shows for all six of Michigan's home football games, the Marching Band will play numerous concert performances, pep rallies, and parades. The Michigan Band also anticipates accompanying the football team to an "away" game and a post-season bowl appearance.

Another highlight of the 1981 season will be Band Day, September 12, when thousands of high school band students will perform during the half-time of the Slippery Rock-Wayne State game. The Michigan Marching Band will also perform at Band Day as will the bands from Slippery Rock and Wayne State. Homecoming 1981, the October 24 game with Northwestern, will bring several hundred Michigan Band alumni back to the Michigan Stadium gridiron for their annual "Blast from the Past."

The Michigan Marching Band's tradition of excellence is longstanding. First appearing on a Michigan football field during the 1896 season, the Marching Band now numbers 225 performers. The Michigan Marching Band is the only band to have played at the Rose Bowl, Orange Bowl, Gator Bowl, and Super Bowl games.

Through the years, the Michigan Band has always been in wide demand for concert appearances, pep rallies, parades and recordings. The Marching Band's best-selling album "Halftime Classics" is currently available, with proceeds going to scholarship funds.

In addition to Director Becher, this year's band staff will include four part-time assistants and student Business Manager, Librarian, and Equipment Manager. The Voice of the Michigan Band is Carl Grapentine, now in his twelfth season.
